Great Interest Manifested In Relief Movement Here

The meetinfg in the High school auditorium last night to start the local movement to aid suffering Belgium was well attended and resulted in a permanent organization being formed with Burgess A. G. Dunlap, chairman H. R. Pore, secretary, and L. X. Ely, treasurer. A committee of twenty-five persons together with the ministers of the churches was formed to district the town and push the work.

The town will be districted in an effort to see every man, woman and child. Contributions of any amount may be made. It does not necessarily mean that every family must give a sack of flour or $2.00, its equivalent. Children should be taught that they, too, can relieve some starving child across the water by making a small sacrifice.

In addition to all of the ministers, the committee is composed of J. Howard Kelley, A. R. Ney, L. X. Ely, A. Tanzer, E. C. Sattley, H. R. Pore, C. L. Schuck, A. N. Shuster, C. R. New, Nick Berbatis, R. S. Kelley, H. E. Gress, Oscar Alberts, Prof. Schrontz, Louis Stephens, B. F. Brown, J. I. Smith, Geo. Bowes, Maurice Dalton, W. P. Kirk, G. A. Homann, T. T. Dunlevy, Frank Venneri, W. J. Merritt, Mr. Spumont, F. D. Bumbaugh. A meeting was held in the council chamber at 10 o'clock today and the town was thoroughly districted and committees will be out the first of the week with petitions. At 4 o'clock this afternoon another meeting was held.

It is wonderfully gratifying to note the interest that is being taken by Monessen people in this movement and there is every indication that when the work is once completed, it will be entirely satisfactory to the large and representative committee whose every energy is being directed to this worthy cause.

The speaker at last night's meeting was Mr. Lawrence Wallace of Pittsburgh, who gave a fine talk on actual conditions in Belgium and whose efforts aroused much interest in the work. He talked for about an hour, picturing many vivid scenes from the war stricken zine.

Young Girl Fell Through Skylight

Miss Katherine Cuddy of 336 Schoonmaker avenue had a narowr escape from serious injury this morning when she feil through the skylight at the Monessen Hardware store at Fifth and Donner. In company with several other young ladies she had gone to the roof of the building to try her skill in athletics.

On of the stunts was an attempt to jump over the skylight and Miss Cuddy thinking it was tar paper instead of glass, jumped through the center. The glass was broken and she grasped the sides just in time to save herself from a nasty fall to the second floor of the building. Her screams brought employes of the hardware store to the scene and with the aid of a ladder she was rescud from her perilous position.

A physician was hurriedly called to dress her wounds and fourteen stitches were required to sew up a cut in her arm. She was then removed to her home and with the exception of her fright and cut arm will suffer no serious injury from her escapade.

Convention Meets In Auditorium

Tomorrow afternoon and evening the Monessen District of the Westmoreland Sunday school association will hold their annual convention in the new High school auditorium. Fred L. Matson district president, will preside, and an interesting and instructive program has been arranged for both sessions.

At the afternoon session which will be called promtly at 2:30, Mrs. Mary L. Stewart of Washington and Dr. S. Harper Smith of McKeesport, will be the principal speakers and in the evening at 7:45, Rev. Dr. Homer M. Cook of the Oakland Baptist church and John C. Sisley of Greensburg will give interesting addresses. All officers of the district will make their report for the year at the afternoon session.

In the evening practically all the local churches will be closed and the congregations will join in the evening program as a union service. A large choir from the churches in the district will furnish music for the occasion. An invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Sports Program Features School Picnic Yesterday

Over 3,000 people attended the annual outing of the local public schools at Eldora park yesterday and from early morn until the last special car left in the evening the children enjoyed themselves on the bamboo slide or other amusements. Three free tickets were given each child and by noon all had had a ride on the merry-go-round and roller coaster.

In the afternoon a program of sports had been arranged and was successfully carried out with suitable prizes being awarded the first two to finish in each event. Not an accident was reported during the day and by 7 o'clock in the evening all the children had safely returned to their homes. In the evening another large crowd of older people gathered at the park for the dance. Following is the result of the races:

Italians Expect Call To Arms

About 300 local Italians are anxiously awaiting the formal call to be in readiness to join their native land in warfare. The Italian ambassador in Washington, Thursday notified Joseph Natalie, Italian vice counsel in Pittsburgh to get in touch with all able bodied reservists between the ages of 20 and 39 years and formal notice to these men will be sent out through the Italian newspapers of Pittsburgh and other nearby towns.

It is estimated that there are 25,000 reservists in western Pennsylvania and at least 3,000 of these will come from the Monongahela valley. All have received full military training in the Italian army and will be ready to respond to the call to arms.

The call issued by G. Fara Forne invited attention to an Italian law which holds all persons of Italian birth subject to a call to arms regardless of whether they have become citizens of another country. The penalty for refusal to obey the call is imprisonment in event of a later return to Italy.

Local Physician In Auto Collision

Notice having been given Dr. F. C. Duvall of this city that information had been made against him before Justice J. M. Ralton of Washington, by Dr. J. M. C. Reynolds of Washington on a charge of exceeding the speed limit in running his automobile along the National pike east of Washington Monday, the defendant went before Justice of the Peace Scott of Charleroi Thursday, and furnished bail for a hearing which will take place Tuesday morning of next week.

The machines of Dr. Duvall and the Washington physician collided last Monday and were badly damaged. Dr. Duvall is suffering from a badly bruised hand as the result of the accident, which it is claimed was entirely unavoidable. The hearing was set for this week but a postponement was secured and the matter may be compromised.

A good sized delegation of the local Luther League attended the convention of the Four Cities Luther League at the Christian church in Charleroi last evening. Rev. C. E. Keller of this city, conducted the devotions, his subject being "The Days of Thy Youth." A good program was carcied out in full with two minute talks on Junior society work by various members. Paul Smith of this city, had an interesting address on "The Most Profitable Things of the Pittsburgh District Luther League Convention." The meeting was brought to a close following the installation of officers for the year.

FAMINE RELICS ARE KEPT AS CURIOS

Five thousand food checks, grim souvenirs of war's horrors in Belgium, have been placed on exhibition in Pittsburgh and next week will be sold at auction to buy bread for the starving noncombatant population in King Albert's stricken country. There is a large demand for these relics of America's philanthropic campaign in Belgium and it is expected that enough money will be realized from the sale to buy several thousand sacks of flour for the Belgians.

The melancholy meal tickets were collected by representatives of the American Commission for Relief in Belgium after they had been used by the beneficiaries of the scanty rations issued to the famished inhabitants. At the top is a fac-simile of a monthly ration ticket issued during December, 1914. Below are fac-similies of individual supply tickets.

The Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania Committee for Relief in Belgium is exhibiting the tickets to show the people how efficiently and systematically the commission carries out its task. All expenses for the campaign have been financed in advance and every penny contributed for the war sufferers goes for the purpose intended.

The Pittsburgh committee will send a number of the souvenirs to the local committee in this city, and an auction may be arranged here. In this vicinity the response of the people has been encouraging to the general committee which now expects western Pennsylvania to contribute enough flour to load a ship which shall be distinguished as coming from this section of the state. The local workers will have a large share in the donation of 200,000 sacks of flour for the Belgians.

Provisions are shipped to Belgium by way of Holland at least three times each week and are distributed under the direction of Brand Whitlock, the American minister at Brussels. All the details for relief are in the hands of the local Comite Central de Secours et d'Alimentation, composed of native citizens of Belgium, and the work is carried on with the full sanction and approval of the German military authorities.

A Resident Known to all our Readers Relates an Experience

Readers of the Independent have been told again and again of the merits of that old reliable, time proved remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons living far away. The cases are Monessen cases told by Monessen people.

Mrs. R. Gilmore, 102½ First street, Monessen, says: "I suffered for years from a lame back and often when I stooped the misery was so intense that I cried aloud. If I moved suddenly, it seemed as if something snapped in my back. When I exerted myself in sweeping or doing housework, the pain was unbearable. I felt tired and listless all the time and my head ached. My eyes were effected and I was all worn out. I consulted several doctors but none of them seemed to do me any good, and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. Others of the family used Doan's Kidney Pills as a kidney tonic and think highly of them."

MISSION OF THE RURAL CHURCH

SHOULD BE UNIVERSITY OF RELIGIOUS LEARNING.

Duty of Christianity to Evangelize the World.

By Rev. Jno. A. Rice, D. D.
Pastor St. John M. E. Church, South, St. Louis, Mo.

Some years ago, the question was asked: What is a college? The attempt to answer it shook the educational world in America from center to circumference. Another question is now beginning to be asked: What is a church? Without undertaking to give a definition of it, let me ask, in this initial paper, what the church is for? The New Testament reveals three distinct tasks to which it is committed.

First, that of evangelization. The church is divinely commissioned to reach for the lowest and the least man in the least land and offer him sonship to the Eternal God; offer him a divine power, which lifts him out of the bog and places him upon the highest levels of human life, where God and the soul are in fellowship. This alone were an immense privilege.

Teaching the Art of Living.

The church is commissioned also to teach and train those who are rich with its evangelistic message. The term, Religious Education, has come to mean a specific thing in our country, namely, the training of the people in the local church in those deep matters which pertain to the art of living. I am not now speaking of the work of education in schools, colleges and universities, but the work of education at our doors, in the congregation. Every agency in reach should be employed to the utmost in this important mission. Indeed, the local church could be made a sort of university for all the people, in which the simple, practical arts and virtues of everyday life should be taught and enforced. Only recently has this special phase of the church's work received anything like adequate attention. The New Testament word for it is Edification.

School of Religion Needed.

Of course, the Sunday School is the center for all this work, although the activities of the church should extend through the entire week and the Sunday School should cease to be so named. It should be called the School of Religion or the Church School or something else that indicates it to be an all-the-week activity. During this time various and sundry clubs, classes, musical organizations, culture courses, as well as distinctly religious meetings, should be held. Thickly settled neighborhoods, as we shall see, offer fine opportunities for the development of things spiritual.

The third task to which the church is committed is that of Christianizing the social order; that of infusing the spirit of Jesus into every nook and corner of our life. Nothing is foreign to the interest of the church.

Neighborly Love Essential.

If religion pervades and colors the whole life then ours is serious business, for it will let no corner of the world escape its influence. The sooner we learn that Christianity is not a thing to be practiced in a corner the better for the world. The question of the eighteenth century, touching Christianity, was, Can it be made to square with the human reason? Of the nineteenth, Can it be made to square with the results of scientific research? Of the twentieth, What can it do? We must learn to enforce not only love of God, whom we cannot see, but love to our neighbors, with whom we are living in constant contact. Neither without the other is Christianity whatever else it may be. Everything that interests his neighbors must interest him, if he is a genuine follower of the Christ.

It is the mission of the church—the rural as well as the city—to evangelize the whole world, to train to the highest degree of efficiency those whom it evangelizes and to seek to make the spirit of Jesus the absolute rule in all human relations.

It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture.

THE NATION'S DINNER TABLE

When the dinner bell of this nation rings there have been slaughtered for the repast 13,000 beeves, 21,000 hogs, 4,600 sheep, 2,000 hundredweight of poultry and other meats, and there have been 700,000 bushels of cereals and 340,000,000 pounds of vegetables prepared for the feast. Multiply these quantities by one thousand, representing approximately the number of meals per annum, and we have the annual contents of the nation's larder. But with all our immense quantity, superb quality and wide range of products, the American housewife, like the wife of King Nebuchadnezzar, longs for variety and she goes marketing in foreign lands. She buys abroad $200,000,000 per annum of farm products that can and should be produced in the United States.

A Great Line of Groceries

It's a complete line too, that we carry. Ask us to show you. You want it when you want it and we have it. We keep our stock turning over. Always fresh goods, appetizing, and we give you quick service. We are ready to fill your wants.

A Mind Reading Craze

By MARTHA V. MONROE

A mind reader had come to town and had given some astonishing public exhibitions. But this had not the effect on the beau monde of an exhibition he gave at the house of Mrs. MacGruder, one of society's leaders. This private entertainment made him fashionable, and every young man who had shaken his brains down into his heels at cotillion parties and every young girl whose aristocratic manners and conserved beauty had given her the right to look down on her sisters who had the brains to take down the dictation of a scientific constructor or a merchant prince was talking about mind reading.

Pete Barnical and Lucy Witridge were sitting together, she on a sofa, he in a chair opposite her. He was holding a skein of yarn on his hands which she was winding into a ball.

"I have heard," said Miss Witridge, "that Mrs. Powelton is very much displeased that Mrs. MacGruder got ahead of her by giving that mind reading exhibition at her house. You see, all society is talking about it. Of course it is greatly to Mrs. MacGruder's credit to have introduced the matter."

"Did the mind reader find out who had the most mind?"

"I don't think that was his object. He told what people were thinking about."

"What were they thinking about?"

"What a question! It wasn't that which was wonderful; it was that he could tell without knowing what they were thinking about."

"How could he tell what he didn't know?"

She lifted her big brown liquid eyes from a tangle in the yarn she was straightening out to his with a kind of puzzled wonder.

"I didn't mean to say," she replied when she had given her brain time to work out an answer, "that he could tell what a person was thinking about without knowing it, but he didn't know it until—until"—

"He found it out," supplied Pete.

"No, not that either. The remarkable feature of his performance was the way he found it out."

"How did he do it?"

"How did he do it? Why, he did it by"— She was stalled again.

"Perhaps he didn't know himself."

"That's it. He said he didn't know how he did it."

"What did he do?"

"He took Billy Perkins' hand and, blindfolded, led Billy to what he was thinking about. Then Mr. Horton wrote something on a piece of paper, folded it, put it in an envelope, put the envelope in a book, put the book on the top of the library, and then the"—

"Where did he put the library?"

"The library! He didn't put that anywhere. It was there already."

"Well, then what happened?"

"The mind reader told what was written on the paper, though he had been blindfolded all the time."

"That's nothing remarkable. I'll bet I can tell what you're thinking about this minute."

"I don't believe you can do any such thing."

"Try me. Think of something, and I'll tell you what it is."

"Very well; I've thought of something."

"A pumpkin."

There was contempt in her expression as she looked at him and replied that she wasn't thinking of any such thing.

"Yes, you were. You were thinking of Tom Baxter. You couldn't think of Tom Baxter without thinking of Tom Baxter's head. Tom Baxter's head is a pumpkin."

"How ridiculous!" But she did not smile. Indeed, she made the exclamation because she didn't quite grasp the logical conclusion.

"I'll tell you what you do," he proceeded, not giving her time to think it all out. "You fix your mind on something and I'll lead you to it."

She spent some time selecting an object, then told him she was ready. He took her hand and led her to the piano.

"I didn't think of that at all," she said.

"I'll try again," he said, still holding her hand, and he led her to a clock on the mantel.

"Wrong again."

He led her to a tete-a-tete in the center of the room. She didn't say whether he was right or not, nor did he ask her. They sank into their respective seats on the tete-a-tete. He still held her hand.

"I can tell you what you are thinking about," he said.

"What?"

"Tom Baxter."

"I'm not."

"Me."

She did not reply to this. She lowered her eyes.

"And I can tell you," he went on, "what you think I'm thinking about."

"What?"

"You're thinking that I'm thinking that I—that I love you."

There was a great deal more of this intellectual conversation, but at this point it became what the world has heard very often, though it is a question if it tires persons. The mind reader had at least given a young man a reasonable excuse to propose.

But why he went so far out of his way to tell a simple truth that she wanted to hear only persons endowed with sentiment know, and they can't tell.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BARON LIEBIG

One of the world's greatest scientists says, "As a means of refreshment when the faculties of life are exhausted to regulate and adjust when disproportion in the nourishment and disturbance in the organism have taken place and as a defense against transitional molestations called for by disregarding nature, Pure Wine is not surpassed by nature or art.

Circus and Champion at Charleroi

Miller Bros., & Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West show is announced to visit Charleroi for two performances, Wednesday, June 16. This is a little earlier in the season than usual but with optimism born of the belief that a cold spring will ultimately bring its compensations, the show began its annual tour three weeks earlier than last season. So far, it is said, this optimism has been justified by excellent business, an indication that the financial uncertainty produced by the European war is passing and that the public is again turning to the big tent shows for amusement.

Interest in the 101 Ranch Wild show would apparently be fully justified this year, even without the addition of Jess Willard, the cowboy world's champion, who is positively announced to appear at both performances. The congress of cowboys, cow girls, Indians, ropers, broncho-busters and other strenuous far western people is said to be more than ever worthy of attention this season. Willard, however, is credited with giving a decided "punch" to the exhibition. The champion, it is announced, will first appear in the arena in his original role as cowboy and susbsequently in ring costums. He will illustrate his battle with Johnson in ring costume with one of his company of sparrers. Willard has his own private car with the show, where he entertains the sporting fraternity enroute, and which proves a haven of refuge when the fans become too insistent. The champion carries his family with him en route, and is said to enjoy his life with the show. His reception by the public is said to be in the nature of an ovation.

The 101 ranch camp will be erected on the old circus grounds on the ball field. There will be a parade as a preliminary to the afternoon performance, and it will leave the grounds promptly at 10:30 o'clock.

Start Packet Service

Despite the understanding that the packet trade was forever dead on the Monongahela river between Brownsville and Pittsburgh, a new packet "Graftsville" has been put in operation between Brownsville and Pittsburgh by a company organized under the name of the Pittsburgh-Brownsville Packet company.

"The Graftsville" is a new and modern packet, being of good length and will accommodate a great many passengers .Its displacement is also sufficient to insure steady motion without rocking. "The Graftsville" will be the first packet to ply on this portion of the Monongahela river since the season of 1910-1911.

The new craft will make three tripe a week, going through to Greensboro. It will start from Pittsburgh on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:30 o'clock and will start from Brownsville at the same hour on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Dayligh trips will be made between Pittsburgh and Brownsville.

Olympic Theatre

United States knows and talks about "The Diamond from the Sky" its artistically arranged scenery, its beautiful decorations and its very educating subjects in general. Those who have not seen the first episode can start today. They must see this picture. Among many more pictures we have "When a Love is a true Love." You must see this picture. Many thousands of books have been written about true love. Yet no one realizes real true love. But the poor mothers of European warring soldiers, the poor Belgian mothers, thse are the ones where the true love lays deepest in the hearts of these poor creatures, who ask often in vain for the support of their little ones. It would be a blessed act if all of us would support these true loving hearts. 1t
